Announcement

This announcement is made by Anton Oilfield Services Group (the “Company”) on a voluntary basis.

The board of directors of the Company (the “Board”) is pleased to announce that Anton Oilfield Services (Group) Limited (“Anton Oil”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, has been informed by its customer that Anton Oil has won the tender for a project in respect of the provision of large-scaled horizontal well multistage fracking tools and technical services to blocks in the Erdos Basin operated by Sinopec Corp. Accordingly, an agreement thereof will be entered into shortly.

It is expected that the project will involve 30 jobs, together with other jobs successively acquired in the first half of this year, the Company will provide an aggregate of 69 jobs of multistage fracking services to the same client in this year. The success in the tender reflects the well reception of the market and recognition of customers of Anton Oil for its brand name and service capabilities in the horizontal well multistage fracking technology, further promoting the large-scaled application of this technology in tight gas development. The Company is now in the harvesting period of this service, and the increasing number of jobs for this service will have a positive impact on the Company’s results of the year.

The project is still subject to uncertainties, shareholders and potential investors are advised to exercise caution when dealing in the securities of the Company.
